Redefine wins prestigious IAS corporate reporting award

JSE-listed diversified Real Estate Investment Trust (REIT) Redefine Properties (JSE: RDF) has been voted as the leader in corporate reporting in the property sector for the 2017 financial year. This award was made during an auspicious Investment Analysts Society (IAS) function held in Sandton yesterday.

The IAS is a non-profit making liaison body for the investment analysts profession and currently boasts 1,300 members across all walks of the profession - Investment Banks and Houses, Fund Managers, Brokers, Insurance Companies, Pension Funds.

"We take our role as custodians of capital very seriously and continue to strive to maintain the highest possible standards in corporate reporting. We are therefore encouraged to have been recognised by such an important professional body and by those within the profession who need to make very important investment choices based on the transparency and veracity of our value creation story," says Redefine CEO, Andrew Konig.

At Redefine, sustainability is not just a buzz phrase, but a dedicated business approach that is centred on balancing short-term decisions and long-term outcomes to create meaningful, sustained value for all stakeholders.

The company remains firmly focused to deepen stakeholder engagement throughout the business.

"By placing people at the heart of what we do we are therefore not only driven by the pursuit of profit, but also by the pursuit of purpose, which is a key ingredient to a strong, sustainable and scalable organisational culture," says Konig.
